POLICE UNABLE TO HANDLE CROWD.

Thousands of Depositors Out Early To Get Their Money from St. Louis Banks.

MANY COT BLANKS INSTEAD.

The Institutions Insisted Upon Due Notice of Withdrawal Being Given.

WOMEN WERE ROUGHLY HANDLED

Greatest Rush Was to the Mercantile Trust Co., but Others Also Were Well Besieged.

St. Louis, Oct. 28.—Long before 10 o'clock, the hour of opening, lines of depositors stretched away from the closed doors of the Mississippi Valley Trust company, the Lincoln Trust company, the Mercantile Trust company and the Missouri Trust company. Small crowds were assembled before the doors of the other savings institutions nearby. It was observed that most of those in line were working people, and many of them women, whose savings were not heavy.

Owing to the action taken last night by the officials of the eight trust companies doing business in St. Louis, requiring 30 and 60 day notices of intention to withdraw funds, depositors were not able to get any money. All they could do was to declare their intention of withdrawing their deposits at the end of the time taken advantage of by the companies under their rules. The trust companies also decided not to pay certificates of deposit before maturity.

The greatest crowd was before the doors of the Mercantile Trust company, located on Eighth street, were jammed for a distance of several hundred feet, and all efforts to keep them back were practically abandoned, while the police directed their efforts chiefly toward maintaining some degree of order at the doors.

At 9 o'clock the doors were opened and the crowd surged in with a force that swept aside the lines of police and bank employees formed to preserve a regular line to the windows of the building. At this time the doors were closed, and the crowd was ordered to leave. The police then directed their efforts toward maintaining some degree of order at the doors.

COMPLAIN OF SHEETS.

Many Republicans Object to His Registration Work.

There are many Republicans who are complaining today over the activity of Detective George Sheets in yesterday's registration work. Ordinarily they say that activity on his part would be all right, and it would be all right now, they declare, if it were displayed in a different manner and for a different purpose. But for a man who expects to be chief of police in the event the election goes his way, they aver, it is altogether too transparent.

Sheets is a member of the Republican city committee and as such he worked like a Trojan to have everybody in district 32 registered. This is the Commercial street, Plum and Victoria alley or Tenderloin section, where the gambling and lewd elements of the city center. Their votes are numerous and may turn the election. What the respectable portion of the Republican party objects to is, for any man who may be the head of the police department, doing any such work. Several strong Republicans said today that they saw Mr. Sheets at work there themselves and that there was no mistake about it and that another such day's job would mean certain defeat for the party.

SALOON MAN IS AMONG MISSING.

Mysterious Disappearance of Col. W. J. Murray Causes Anxiety Among Acquaintances.

WAS STOPPING AT THE WILSON.

Paid Rent Two Months in Advance On Second Store Establishment—It Still Remains Closed.

There is a widespread interest attached to the sudden and mysterious disappearance of Col. W. J. Murray from this city, who was last seen here on the 17th day of this month. He left the Wilson hotel, where he was stopping at that time, saying that he was going to Denver for a day or two, and would come back in time to open the Del Monte saloon, 22 east Second South street, which he had rented and paid the rent for two months in advance. Col. Murray is one of the best known liquor men in Colorado, having done business in Leadville, Aspen and Cripple Creek for the past twenty-two years, and amassed a large fortune.

Just before the court adjourned, he was in an intoxicated condition and had to be turned over to the sheriff, and removed from the room. Mrs. Jones' son, W. E. Jones, also gave some damaging testimony against his mother. Just before the court adjourned, he was in an intoxicated condition and had to be turned over to the sheriff, and removed from the room. Mrs. Jones' son, W. E. Jones, also gave some damaging testimony against his mother.

Mr. Jones was on the witness stand during the entire session this morning. He denied that he ever drank out excess or ever treated his wife cruelly. He admitted having used profane language towards her. The case will probably be completed today.

CARRIED CONSIDERABLE MONEY.

He generally carried a great deal of money on his person, and his friends in Salt Lake City, who have written him and failed to hear from him are considerably perturbed over the matter. One of the missing man's friends told the "News" yesterday that Col. Murray had intended to open his place here on the 19th instant, but became quite ill before he left. It is known that he had expended a large amount of money for new fixtures, which would have been put in the place on the 20th, but the saloon has been locked up and nobody found, who could receive the property.

WIRED TO DENVER.

A telegram was sent to the Oxford hotel, Denver, yesterday by a friend of the colonel, who said it was possible that he might be there, but no response was received from it up to the time of going to press.

Col. Murray had just spent three months on the Pacific coast, going everywhere, as he said, to find a location for his business, as he had just sold out in Cripple Creek, Colo. After taking in the coast cities and many intermediate points, he came to Salt Lake City, and informed his friends that he considered it to be the best place to locate in business that he had seen, and made all the necessary arrangements to go into business here laying out several thousand dollars for that purpose.

FRIENDS ANXIOUS.

People in this city, who knew Col. Murray in Colorado, are very much exercised over his disappearance. He is a man of unusually fine presence and appearance, and from his dress and manner is always taken for a capitalist.

The place that he rented is known as the Del Monte, 22 east Second South street, run for many years by Dunham & White, and known as Red Dean's place. It is one of the best locations in the city, and much surprise has been caused by its being closed for a month. Col. Murray having bought out the proprietors, paying a large bonus about 30 days ago.

HOODOO NO. 50.

Famous Street Car Adds Another Smashup to Its Record.

Street car No. 50, on the O. S. L. depot and Waterloo line, is fast acquiring the reputation of being a hoodoo. The car added to its past lustrous reputation for killing a man, and damaging people and wagons, generally, by smashing into a brick wagon at 7:30 last evening, at the corner of Second North and Third West streets. The rear wheels of the wagon went flying into the ditch on the one side of the road, while the front wheels went sailing across to the other, and the man who was driving—well, he exclaimed, as he let himself down painfully from the limb of a neighboring tree, that folks was always taking him for a battering ram. All the damage sustained by the car was a segregated fender, and the motor man who had been suffering from indigestion before the collision, observed sagely afterwards that there was really nothing like a good, sharp, sudden experience to bring about a healthful condition of the stomach.

NEW FUEL COMPANY.

UNSAVORY CASE IN DIVORCE COURT.

Charges and Counter Charges in The Suit of Mary A. Jones Against Husband.

TESTIFIES AGAINST MOTHER.

Son Gives Damaging Evidence—One Witness Appeared in Court in an Intoxicated Condition.

The hearing of evidence in the divorce case of Mary A. Jones against Willard T. Jones will probably be completed late this afternoon in Judge Lewis' court. In her complaint, Mrs. Jones charges that her husband is an habitual drunkard and has treated her cruelly. She charges that on April 27, 1903, he knocked her down three years and that one day in August this year he threw a pan of water at her. She asked to be awarded a divorce, $30 per month alimony and some of her husband's property.

In his answer and cross-complaint, Mr. Jones denied the charges made by his wife and brought charges of infidelity against her, naming Harry McClelland and Fred W. Chase as co-conspirators. On the witness stand yesterday afternoon, Chase told of a number of times when Mrs. Jones had been guilty of criminal conduct. McClelland, who was also present in the courtroom, was in an intoxicated condition and had to be turned over to the sheriff, and removed from the room. Mrs. Jones' son, W. E. Jones, also gave some damaging testimony against his mother. Just before the court adjourned, he was in an intoxicated condition and had to be turned over to the sheriff, and removed from the room. Mrs. Jones' son, W. E. Jones, also gave some damaging testimony against his mother.

HELD UP SEVEN MEN.

Daring Work of John Callahan Now Charged with Robbery.

(Special to the "News.")

Ogden, Utah, Oct. 28.—Sheriff Bailey yesterday afternoon arrested John Callahan, on the Ogden-Luich cut-off, who will probably be charged with robbery. It is alleged that the man held up seven Southern Pacific employees two weeks ago and after robbing them marched them into a box car, where they were locked up. The men identify Callahan as their assailant and the latter admits being in Ogden at the time. He is charged with holding them up and robbing them. ## BICYCLE ACCIDENT.

A serious bicycle accident occurred at 6:30 this morning on the corner of Grant avenue and Twenty-fourth street, the victims being Thomas J. Turner and H. L. Harrington. It appears that the men were riding in different directions and ran into each other, the result being that both were thrown unconscious. They lay there for 30 minutes before being found, when they were taken to the hospital. Turner suffered a broken nose and head, and Harrington sustained a gash over the left ear and was badly bruised about the head.

MINERS EXISTING AS SOLDIERS NOW.

Butte, Mont., Oct. 28.—Lieut. Sanford of the Twenty-fourth infantry, Fort Harrison, Helena, with some non-commissioned officers, today opened recruiting offices here and in Anaconda, and the miners out of work flock to the desks. It is thought a full company will be procured here.

The miners as a rule are hearty and robust, and would make fine soldiers. Many of the younger men readily step forward, and here, as in Anaconda, the recruiting officers will reap a harvest.

PRODUCE EXCHANGE.

Promoters Looking for Suitable Place For Headquarters Here.

The Produce Exchange men are looking after a suitable place for headquarters; and in this connection, hope has been expressed that a way might be found for the erection of a large building, centrally located, which might serve for a produce exchange and office building combined. Some of the finest business structures in the east are produce exchange buildings, and an immense number of transactions of often the greatest importance to the country are carried on there. It is claimed that the building of a fine produce exchange building in Salt Lake would not only be of immense benefit and gain to the grain, flour and feed and allied interests, but would prove a credit to the general commercial interests of the city and its architectural attractions. The offices in the structure would be readily rented, and the scheme made a paying investment.

NEW ROAD FOR UTAH.

Scheme to Build Through to Arizona From R. G. W.

A circular has been issued from the New York offices of the Grand Valley, Colorado River and South Pacific Railroad company (proposed), relative to the project to build a road from Grand Junction down the Grand river to its junction with the Green river and on through Arizona to the south Pacific coast; and asking all who may be interested in such a proposition to communicate with the company's headquarters. The circular is accompanied by a map which also shows the Salina cut-off of the D. & R. G. as the "proposed branch of the Moffat road to St. George, Utah." It is claimed that the construction of such a road will open up immense mining, stock raising and agricultural resources in the country through which the route lies.

As announced in the "News" two weeks ago construction on a road from Grand Junction to the asphaltum beds, some 40 miles south, has already commenced under the supervision of Engineer Baxter. Work on this is now being rushed and men are being daily shipped in from Utah and Colorado points for the purpose.

WILL REMAIN IN MANCHURIA.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 28.—A dispatch from Port Arthur says the Novykray, a newspaper edited by a member of the royal Alexiev's staff, after reiterating the assertion that "the Russian troops will remain in Manchuria until far eastern affairs are settled," proceeds to outpour a lecture the Japanese, necessarily with the approval of the Russian censorship.

"Now," says the Novykray, "is precisely the proper moment for Russia to establish a political equilibrium in the east. The Japanese have failed in Formosa because they do not understand how to colonize. The efforts of the Japanese to obtain settlements in Korea, having their own jurisdiction, would lead to the subjection of the Koreans and impair the sovereignty of Korea. Japan has not attained the status of a European state and cannot be entrusted with the rights of the European powers in the east. On the continent all that can be tolerated is the immigration of Japanese into Korea under guard."

MURDERER NOT CAUGHT.

Man Who Shot Sagauti Still at Large.

London, Oct. 28.—The search of the police for the murderer of Sagauti, president of the Armenian Revolutionary society in London, who was shot and killed by an unknown assassin in the suburb of Nunhead late Monday evening, has been futile up to noon today. Several foreign revolutionary clubs were raided during the early hours of the morning, but with no result.

The inquest opened today and it transpired that the police yesterday evening were misinformed on the subject of the pistol used by the assassin being an automatic revolver. It is an ordinary five-shot silver plated revolver, numbered 1,055.

An important point developed at the inquest was that the murderer shot with his left hand.

A member of the Armenian society who described its object as being "to free our land from the Turkish rule," testified that he was with Sagauti when the latter died. Sagauti was unable to identify the murderer as the same man he saw on board the boat while coming to England from Dieppe, France, but the society believes he is identical. Sagauti's home was at Beiku, Trans-Caucasia.

A verdict of wilful murder was rendered.
